E. MILDE BOTTLING WORKS.

There should be a crew of workmen at work on the sidewalk in front of each lot on Main street if these walks should do the traveling public any good this winter.

Threshing time is here and you may need cups and saucers, plates, bowls, spoons, etc. We have them at lowest prices.

BRUENING & KERSTNER D. G. Co.

We printed a pamphlet of lectures this week for Rev. J. J. Lovett. These lectures are on the temperance question, and they deal with the subject on a different line from others we have heard. If you are desirous of good reading buy one of these little pamphlets and we are sure you will not regret it.

Say, did you know that a drink of good cold soda these days is mighty fine? Cheap, too. A case—24 bottles—only 60c.

E. MILDE BOTTLING WORKS.

The person who came in the HERALD office last Thursday during the rain and took away a good parasol and left an old one tied up with a white string is invited to come back and undo his mistake. If he does not come back we shall infer it was no mistake and should we ever find out the name of this person, we shall tell the people about him.

Buy a Lombard piano. 7-27

MRS. V. O. STARNES.

W. C. T. U.

Gilbert Heinberg had a birthday party last Saturday. He was four years old. There were several of his little friends invited, and they passed a very enjoyable evening together. These little tots always do justice to a party and there is no policy shown. Everything is done in dead earnest, and with good intentions.

City a ninety-five ton yacht, for young men's vacation cruises on Long Island sound. The yacht was built in 1890 at a cost of $20,000, but purchased for much less figure. It has been fitted up for cruises with bunks and hammocks, and will be put in charge of a seasoned skipper with a crew and cook, but every one of the thirty men "shipping" for the weekly cruises, will "go before the mast" and learn to handle ship. Dr. Knowles, physical instructor of the Harlem Young Men's Christian association, tried sea dog, will direct the cruises. Frequent stops along the sound will be made, in the harbors, for swimming and base ball. Similar cruises are made by the Associations of Hamilton, Ont., and Washington, D. C.

Other parties of New York association men go into camp at Lake Oscawana, where a nine-acre camp was bought last year. The younger boys have a big camp at Lake Waccabuc, near Brooklyn's camp. One hundred and fifty of the junior members of the New Jersey associations are now under canvass at Lake Wawayanda. Others will take an educational trip by the way of Boston, St. John, N. B., and cross country to Silver Bay, Lake George, to reach the Boys' Conference of the Y. M. C. A., Aug. 29-Sept. 3. Western boys will "hike" to a similar meeting at Lake Geneva, July 29-Aug. 3, sleeping like tramps in barns along the way. The Canadian boys have the best camps, as some of the associations have preempted or bought lakes and built log cabins on the islands. Members of the Redland, Cal., association are to build a log cabin on a mountain, and Redland's men will explore the Yosemite. Ohio boys have the run of a big farm with a mill pond to swim in and woods to play Indian in. The Massachusetts and Rhode Island associations have state camps with extensive equipment of tents, buildings and boats which have been given them—an island on the Maine coast, and a farm in the Berkshires, while Boston will have three hundred men at Lake Winnepesaukee.

Over two hundred camps are conducted by the Young Men's Christian associations in all parts of the country, and they will have six thousand to seven thousand men and boys attending them in the next two months. Along the coast camps are located on the beach. Some have house boats. Dubuque, Ia., and Concord, N. H., associations have put up public swimming baths for the boys who can't get away from the city.

All these camps are in charge of Y. M. C. A. secretaries and older members who know how to rough it and are "good fellows." Some camps are run on military
